Corporate Formation and Governance

Underwood Attorneys routinely advise companies, individuals, management, and boards of directors in the formation of entities and a full range of corporate governance matters. Underwood Attorneys have significant experience in counseling and advising clients in matters including the formation of the entity, fiduciary duties owed by directors and owners, and winding up or terminating the entity.

To provide our clients with the most advantageous corporate structure, we closely monitor pending lawsuits and developments in the legislative and regulatory landscape to keep our clients apprised of any changes to the law that effects our clients' businesses. An interdisciplinary approach is utilized by our attorneys to ensure all matters are addressed including tax, regulatory, fiduciary duty and liability concerns.
