

Healthcare Litigation

Underwood's health care litigation attorneys represent health care professionals, professional practice groups, health care facilities, and hospital districts to cover a large spectrum of issues on a regional, state, and national basis. Attorneys in this section have an in-depth knowledge of the regulatory nuances and legal ramifications associated with the rapidly changing arena of health care law.

While we frequently appear with health care providers before state courts and agencies, our attorneys also have experience in the myriad of issues related to Medicare, including counseling, litigation, and representation before Federal Courts, the U.S. HHS Departmental Appeals Board, the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, the Provider Reimbursement Review Board, Medicare carriers, and fiscal intermediaries.

Underwood lawyers have decades of experience in defending medical negligence cases on behalf of health care providers, including hospitals and long term care facilities.
